University of Denver Honor Code

The Honor Code is the Student code of conduct that outlines the expectations, rights, and responsibilities of every Student at the University. This document provides information to support our Students in developing and demonstrating integrity, respect, and individual and community responsibility. All Students at the University should read this Honor Code carefully to understand the expectations, community standards, policies, and procedures that apply when a Student is alleged to have violated a Student Rights & Responsibilities (SRR) Community Standard and/or policy. As a Student at the University, you are expected to know and to understand your rights as well as your responsibilities to be a positive contributor and successful community member at the University.

Honor Code Community Values

All members of the University of Denver community are expected to engage both individually and as community members with Integrity, Respect, and Responsibility. These values embody the standards of conduct for Students, Faculty, staff, and administrators as members of the University Community. These community values are defined as follows:

Integrity: acting in an honest and ethical manner.

Respect: honoring differences in people, ideas, experiences, and opinions; engaging with others in ways that demonstrate an appreciation of their rights and humanity.

Responsibility: accepting ownership for one’s actions and choices; seeking opportunities to understand one’s role in creating an inclusive environment as a University Student and global citizen; and when necessary, work to repair harm, restore trust, and acknowledge the impact of one’s actions and choices.

A Community of Care

As a great private university dedicated to the public good, the University asks that all members of our community commit to engaging with our values of respect, integrity, and responsibility. Our identities, our cultures, and humanity should be honored and respected. Members of the campus community have the RIGHT to be treated with RESPECT and share the RESPONSIBILITY to behave with INTEGRITY, and to create a campus climate that honors free expression and inclusion.
Jurisdiction

The University will address alleged Student behavior and conduct that may have violated University Policies, including the SRR Community Standards set forth in this document, regardless of where the alleged behavior and conduct occurred. The University, through the Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities (SRR), has the authority to address off-campus Student behavior and conduct that disrupts neighbors, impacts the University mission, results in a response by University Staff, implicates safety of the University Community or a University Community member, or negatively impacts the reputation of the University. The University has the sole discretion to determine if the reported behavior meets any of these criteria. Students hosting gatherings, events, and activities at off-campus residences are responsible for the activities occurring at or associated with their gatherings and should understand that local law enforcement may respond to off-campus gatherings, events, and activities based on complaints from neighbors and that the alleged behavior and conduct may be addressed through University processes.

The SRR process at the University is not intended to replace criminal or civil proceedings. The SRR process is a University administrative process that does not follow formal rules of evidence or rules of criminal or civil procedure as set forth in any federal, state, or local statute or regulation.

A Case Resolution Body will review and give appropriate weight to the information provided related to the incident. The Case Resolution Body will make determinations of responsibility for violations of University Policies or SRR Community Standards based upon a finding of Preponderance of the Evidence.

In cases of criminal or civil charges, the University may proceed with the SRR process as the University deems appropriate, regardless of any pending criminal charges or civil proceedings relating to the alleged violation(s). The University may or may not defer or postpone the SRR process based on concurrent criminal or civil proceedings. The University may still proceed with the SRR process even after the dismissal or reduction in criminal charges or dismissal or other resolution of civil proceedings related to the alleged violations.

The University may continue with the SRR process even if the Student withdraws from the University or completes all University work towards a degree.

The University encourages the prompt Reporting of alleged violations of any policy or SRR Community Standard; however, the University reserves the right to review any alleged violations, at any time, in furtherance of its goal to promote a safe and productive environment for all University Community members.
With approval from the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, the Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities reserves the authority to pilot new programs, procedures, and/or resolution methods to best meet the needs of the ever-changing University Community. Participation in such piloted programs, procedures, and/or resolution methods is voluntary.

The Office of Equal Opportunity & Title IX (EOIX) has the jurisdiction to address alleged violations of University Policies related to discrimination and harassment through EOIX’s own procedures.

Students as Employees
Students may be involved in the University Community in different ways, such as Students who are also University employees. Such Students may be subject to other University Policies and expectations of behavior related to those other roles.

Students as Scholars
Students may also be members of academic programs with professional standards of conduct in addition to the University standards. The University may hold a Student responsible through the SRR process for alleged violations of both University Policies and the applicable professional standards. Students are responsible for knowing and following all applicable policies and standards.

Interpretation
The purpose of publishing the Honor Code is to give the University Community general notice of SRR Community Standards, policies and procedures related to SRR. The Honor Code and included processes are designed to be educational and are not written with the specificity of a criminal code and should not be interpreted as such. The Director of SRR has the authority to interpret the Honor Code as it applies to Students with the Vice Chancellor of Student Affairs having the final authority to resolve disputes regarding the interpretation of the Honor Code.

Implementation
To better foster an environment of ethical conduct in the University Community, all community members are expected to take Constructive Action, that is, any effort to Report any behavior and conduct contrary to the Honor Code.

The Chancellor and the Provost & Executive Vice Chancellor grant authority to the Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities to resolve alleged violations of the Honor Code by Students. SRR is responsible for reviewing and evaluating Reports, assigning alleged violations of SRR Community Standards and/or University Policies, reviewing the incident(s), assessing findings, assigning status and educational Outcomes, and resolution of the incident. The Director of SRR may delegate this authority, or portions thereof, as necessary to maintain efficiency or address conflicts of interest. The SRR process is educational and provides Students the opportunity to learn from their choices and actions and wherever possible repair any harm, restore trust, and acknowledge the impact of their choices and actions.

For alleged violations of University Policy by members of the University Community who are not Students, the following policies and procedures govern:

- For faculty members: The University’s Policies and Procedures Relating to Faculty Appointment, Promotion, and Tenure
- For non-faculty employees: Please see the applicable employment policy in the policy library
- For trustees or the Chancellor: The By-Laws or other Board policies of the University of Denver

If there is any conflict or dispute concerning which SRR Community Standards, policies and/or procedures govern the enforcement of the Honor Code, the following University Officials shall resolve the conflict or dispute:

- Regarding faculty: The Provost & Executive Vice Chancellor
- Regarding non-faculty employees: The Vice Chancellor for Human Resources
- Regarding trustees or the Chancellor: The Board of Trustees

For alleged violations of the Honor Code by individuals who are not University Community members (e.g. Guests), the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs designates the Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities and the Department of Campus Safety to consult regarding further action to recommend to the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs.

If there is any conflict or dispute concerning which policies and procedures govern in the enforcement of the Honor Code regarding non-University Community members, the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs shall resolve the conflict or dispute.

Revision & Amendment
The Honor Code was developed and has been revised following input from a broad range of constituencies within the University. Revisions to the Honor Code may be made to reflect the ever-changing community and circumstances facing the University.

The Student Rights & Responsibilities staff annually reviews the Honor Code and recommends changes. The Provost & Executive Vice Chancellor and the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs hold final authority to revise or amend the Honor Code. The Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities will publish the Honor Code on the SRR website prior to the beginning of the academic term in which it takes effect.

In addition, upon recommendation from a Dean or the Faculty Senate, the Provost & Executive Vice Chancellor, in their sole discretion and through consultations with other relevant administrators, may permit individual units or divisions of the University to create more stringent professional standards that pertain directly to the unit or division involved. However, individual units or divisions cannot lessen the standards set forth in the Honor Code. The applicable unit or division must publish approved professional standards on an official University of Denver website and must provide those standards to (1) the individuals who are subject to those standards; and (2) the Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities to be utilized in the SRR process when appropriate.

At times, changes to the Honor Code are made necessary outside the annual review due to changes in federal, state, or local statutes or regulations or to address pressing University needs. The Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities will recommend such changes to the Provost & Executive Vice Chancellor and the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs for final approval. These changes will be communicated to the University Community upon approval.

SDS is the only office on campus authorized to review a student’s self-disclosure of a disability, medical, and/or mental health condition and determine the student’s eligibility for requested accommodations.

University Discrimination and Harassment Policy Statement

The University of Denver is committed to creating and maintaining a community in which people are treated with dignity, decency, and respect. The environment of the University should be characterized by mutual trust, freedom of inquiry and expression, and the absence of intimidation, oppression, and exploitation. People in this community should be able to work and learn in a safe atmosphere. The accomplishment of this goal is essential to the academic mission of the University.

Consistent with this commitment, the University will not tolerate any unlawful discrimination, harassment, or gender-based violence of any kind. When a Student is alleged to have violated the University of Denver Discrimination and Harassment Policy, 3.10.010, SRR will forward the incident Report to the Office of Equal Opportunity & Title IX for evaluation, investigation, and findings as provided in the Office of Equal Opportunity & Title IX Title IX Sexual Harassment Procedures or the Office of Equal Opportunity & Title IX Comprehensive Discrimination & Harassment Procedures. If a Student is found responsible for a policy violation under either procedure, the Outcome Council will assign Status and Educational Outcomes for that Student. The appeals process for those procedures is set forth in the applicable procedure.

University Critical Response to Emergency Conditions Statement

The University of Denver has developed a coordinated approach to respond to emergency conditions and to protect the safety and wellbeing of the entire University Community in alignment with the University’s mission. This approach includes plans, protocols, procedures, and instructions based on local, state and federal guidance and applies to all members of the University Community, their Guests, and visitors to campus.

As members of the University Community, Students are expected to follow all applicable University plans, protocols, procedures, and instructions during such emergency conditions. Students who do not follow University plans, protocols, procedures or instructions during emergency conditions may be referred to the Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities for action under the Honor Code, including considerations of temporary and permanent removal from the University.
Protests & Demonstrations Statement

The University recognizes the right to freedom of expression and the free interchange of ideas, including the right to peaceful and orderly protests and demonstrations. The University also recognizes that protests and demonstrations should not disrupt University operations, restrict movement of members of the University Community on and around campus, and/or interfere with the safety or security of members of the University Community. Students are expected to uphold the policies contained within the Honor Code, other University Policies, as well as applicable laws, and will be held accountable for any violations, including, but not limited to University Policies of Interference, Noncompliance, and Property Damage. The University values providing Students the opportunity to exercise these rights and the Division of Student Affairs & Inclusive Excellence desires to help Students do so effectively. Team is comprised of University Staff Members who will intervene to manage patterns and/or instances of concerning behavior to support the individual Student while balancing the safety, health, and well-being of the University Community.

Please see the C.A.R.E. Team website for more information.

Student Rights & Responsibilities Purpose

Mission Statement

The Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities, a department in the Dean of Students Office at the University of Denver, supports the University’s mission by providing programs and services designed to foster an inclusive campus community and promote opportunities for holistic student living, learning, and growth. We strive to achieve a safe campus community in which Students:

- respect themselves, others, the University, and surrounding community;

- honor differences and gain an appreciation for living in a diverse society;

- maintain high standards of their personal and academic integrity;

- understand the impact of their actions and choices upon themselves, others, the University, and surrounding communities; and

- seek opportunities to repair harm, restore trust, and acknowledge the impact of their actions and choices.

The SRR process strives to be educational and restorative in our processes by offering educational Outcomes, workshops, and alternate case resolution options. Through the Outcomes assigned to Students, we hope to encourage self-awareness, social engagement, and provide opportunities for reflection and meaning-making.
Restorative Practice
At the University of Denver, we strive to take a restorative approach to support our Students in learning how to strengthen interpersonal and community relationships. By strengthening relationships, Students learn how to interact with each other intentionally and thoughtfully, communicate, and address any conflict that may arise to repair harm in that individual relationship and understand the impact on the community as whole. Sometimes a separation from the University, whether for a period of time or permanently, may be important in reaching these goals for the University Community.

Community Standards, Policies & Procedures Statement
These SRR Community Standards, policies and procedures govern all Student behavior and conduct at the University of Denver. Students are expected to uphold the values of the University and the Honor Code by exhibiting behavior and conduct that supports the spirit under which these values were established. Student’s actions that are contrary to the core values of the Honor Code may be addressed through the Student Rights & Responsibilities Community Standards and Procedures as administered by the Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities.

Health & Safety Statement
The health and safety of Students are of primary importance to the University. Students are expected to take immediate action when a person’s health or safety is threatened. As members of the University Community, we all must take care of each other and take steps to help promote the Health & Safety of one another and help each other thrive at DU. Students should understand that they are not medically qualified to assist their peers in situations where there is a concern for another individual’s health and safety.

The Medical Amnesty Process is designed to reduce barriers to Students taking immediate action for fear of being held responsible for alcohol or drug related Honor Code violations. Situations in which the Medical Amnesty Process may apply include, but are not limited to, instances of physical injury, discrimination, harassment, sexual assault, mental health concerns, or other medical situations that occur in relation to alcohol consumption and/or drug use.

When, out of a concern for health and safety, a Student chooses to take intentional action and seek assistance from a University Official or emergency services for themselves or others, SRR will not initiate a formal conduct process for alcohol and/or drug violations if the Medical Amnesty Process applies. As a result, for the specific incident in which the Medical Amnesty Process is applied, a finding of responsibility for alcohol- and/or drug-related violations will not appear on their Student Rights & Responsibilities Record. During emergency conditions, the University may extend this Medical Amnesty Process to include violations of the University’s emergency conditions specific plans, protocols, procedures, and instructions, as applicable.

The University intends that the Medical Amnesty Process will extend to situations in which any Student makes a complaint or provides a statement to the Office of Equal Opportunity & Title IX in the course of an investigation or resolution pursuant to the Office of Equal Opportunity & Title IX Title IX Sexual Harassment Procedures or the Office of Equal Opportunity & Title IX Comprehensive Discrimination & Harassment Procedures. However, the Medical Amnesty Process does not extend to the distribution, sale, or otherwise providing another individual with alcohol or drugs for the purposes of inducing incapacitation, as defined in those procedures.

The University may determine in its sole discretion that the Medical Amnesty Process does not apply to an incident in which (1) a Student did not cooperate with University Staff or emergency personnel at the time of the incident; (2) a Student provides assistance to another individual without actively informing a University Official or emergency service; or (3) other extenuating circumstances weigh against application of the Medical Amnesty Process.

The Medical Amnesty Process is not guaranteed to apply to all situations in which a Student contacted a University Official or emergency services. Students should know that providing assistance to another Student without actively informing a University Official or emergency service does not meet the expectations associated with the Medical Amnesty Process.

When the Medical Amnesty Process is applied, SRR may issue a Student an Educational Letter to provide the Student with information and support regarding concerning use of alcohol and/or drugs. Additionally, SRR may refer Students to resources or assign other Educational Outcome(s) intended to promote health and safety. This Educational Letter and any referrals or Educational Outcomes will not constitute a reportable violation of the Honor Code.

The University expects that Students will always prioritize their own and others’ health and safety. Moreover, this commitment does not preclude legal consequences or Alleged Policy Violations for non-alcohol or drug-related Honor Code violations related to the incident.

More information regarding being an Active Bystander can be found here.

Report Submission

- Any individual may file a Report with the University. As described below, certain individuals at the University must report to the University incidents involving alleged violations of University Policy, including alleged violations of Community Standards. A Report is considered to have been filed with the Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities when it has been presented in writing to a Student Rights & Responsibilities. Consistent with its obligations under the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (Clery Act), the University designates certain individuals at the University as Campus Security Authorities (CSAs) and those individuals are required to notify the University of alleged Clery Act Crimes that are reported to them or that they witness. Consistent with the University’s obligations under Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, and the Reporting by University Employees of Disclosures Relating to the University’s Discrimination and Harassment Policy, the University has designated as Responsible Employees all University employees who are not Confidential Employees and requires Responsible Employees to report alleged Prohibited Conduct to the Office of Equal Opportunity & Title IX. Once a Report has been filed, the University may proceed with the Student Rights & Responsibilities process, even if a Reporting Party or Complainant later chooses to retract, rescind, or recant all or a portion of the Report or the Reporting Party or Complainant chooses not to participate in the SRR process or any related investigation.

- The University will only take action without the consent of a Complainant if, the Director of Student Rights & Responsibilities determines that such action is necessary to protect the safety, security, or integrity of the University or any member(s) of its community.

- If a Respondent withdraws or graduates from the University, the University may continue with the Student Rights & Responsibilities process.

Duration of Response and Resolution

The University will make a good faith effort to address and resolve all Reports, exclusive of appeals, within an average of sixty (60) to ninety (90) business days, without jeopardizing the rights of an Involved Party. Some considerations that may impact the timeline for completion of a report includes timeline for information gathering, the number of and availability of any Witnesses or Involved Parties, the volume of information provided, the required follow up, law enforcement involvement, difficulties in scheduling Case Resolution Meetings, University breaks, vacations, and other considerations.

The University’s failure to meet the timeframes set forth in the Honor Code or to provide written notice of the extension of these time frames, shall not be grounds for dismissing any allegations or for an appeal of any matter, nor shall such failure limit the University’s ability to complete Case Resolution, impose Outcomes or limit the University’s ability to take any other required action.
Determination of Alleged Policy Violations & Referral of Incident Report

- Student Rights & Responsibilities staff will review available evidence/information, to determine what Alleged Community Standards Violations may be applicable, and take one of the following steps:

  - If Student Rights & Responsibilities staff determine that the Report is not substantiated, SRR will take no further action, provided that SRR may proceed with the Student Rights & Responsibilities process should SRR become aware of further relevant information.

  - If Student Rights & Responsibilities staff determine that the Report is substantiated and SRR has sufficient documentation to proceed with the Student Rights & Responsibilities process, SRR will refer the Report to a Case Resolution Body.

- If, during the Student Rights & Responsibilities process, Student Rights & Responsibilities staff receive information supporting more Alleged Policy Violations, Student Rights & Responsibilities staff will review the information and determine whether to add additional Alleged Policy Violations.

Notification of Case Resolution Meeting

- The Student Rights & Responsibilities Staff Member or designee will review the academic schedule(s) of the Involved Parties and schedule a Case Resolution Meeting with the appropriate Case Resolution Body.

- The Student Rights & Responsibilities Staff Member or designee will send each Involved Party a Proper Written Notification.

Attending the Case Resolution Meeting

The Case Resolution Meeting is an opportunity for the Case Resolution Body to learn the perspectives regarding the incident from the Involved Parties and assess, based on a Preponderance of the Evidence, whether any Student is responsible for violating University Policies. If so, the Case Resolution Body and the Student have an opportunity to evaluate the impact of the incident, begin to explore possible alternatives to the behavior and conduct that occurred, and discuss opportunities to repair harm.

- SRR reserves the right to make exceptions to any guidelines, timelines, or procedure to accommodate University scheduling, maintain confidentiality, or address any other extenuating circumstances.

- In Cases involving a minor violation of the community standards/policies set forth in the Guide to Residence Living and/or Student Rights & Responsibilities
Community Standards, an educational letter or a written warning may be sent to the Respondent instead of scheduling a Case Resolution Meeting.

- Parties, including Support Persons and Witnesses, involved with the SRR process are prohibited from making any recording of any Case Resolution Meeting or any related proceeding or meeting regarding the SRR process.

- After a Case Resolution Meeting, the Case Resolution Body can take one of the following actions regarding each Respondent:

  - Find the Respondent not responsible of violating University Policies.
  - Find the Respondent responsible using a Preponderance of the Evidence standard for violating University Policies and assign appropriate Outcomes.
  - Find the Respondent responsible for violating University Policies and refer the Student to a Restorative Justice Conference (RJC) for Outcomes when the Case Resolution Body determines that this option is appropriate.
  - Refer the Respondent to a new Case Resolution Meeting before a separate Case Resolution Body.
  - Dismiss or drop the case.

Determinations and Decision Notice

- Once the Case Resolution Body has made a decision regarding responsibility and Outcomes, Student Rights & Responsibilities will send Proper Written Notification, as applicable.

- Decision Notice may include, as applicable to the recipient, a rationale explaining the decision, the determination of responsibility for each Alleged Policy Violation reviewed and discovered in the Case Resolution Meeting, any assigned Outcomes with details and due dates for completion, and appeal instructions.

Appeal Process

- Respondents have the right to submit an appeal of a decision made by a Case Resolution Body based on specific Appeal Criteria identified below. In certain circumstances, Complainants have the right to submit an appeal of a decision based on specific Appeal Criteria identified below. In any request for an appeal, the burden of proof lies with the Party requesting the appeal.

  - The following are not grounds for appeal:
- Mere disagreement with the decision; and/or
- Not participating in the Case Resolution Process.

- SRR considers appeals only based on the following Appeal Criteria:
  - The existence of procedural errors so substantial that they greatly impacted the findings, responsibility determination, and/or the ultimate Outcomes;
  - Presentation of new and significant evidence which was not reasonably available at the time of the initial Case Resolution Meeting and would likely alter the findings, responsibility determination, and/or the ultimate Outcomes;
  - New discovery of significant conflict of interest or bias on part of a member of a Case Resolution Body member that greatly impacted the findings, responsibility determination, and/or the ultimate Outcomes; and/or
  - The Outcomes imposed are substantially disproportionate to the severity of the violation.

- The appeal must include:
  - The issues being appealed with reference to the applicable Appeal Criteria;
  - specific information to support the specific Appeal Criteria cited in the appeal; and
  - For appeals based on new and significant evidence, a specific description of the new evidence and how that evidence would likely alter the findings, responsibility determination, and/or the ultimate Outcomes.

- The Student (rather than a third-party, such as a Support Person) must submit and have written the appeal.

- Respondents and Complainants (as applicable) wishing to submit an appeal of a decision must submit a completed appeal request form within five (5) Business Days of the Proper Written Notification.
- The Director of Student Rights & Responsibilities has the discretion to grant a reasonable extension to the appeal submission deadline based on a submitting Party’s requests. A reasonable extension is considered to be two (2) additional Business Days; however, the Director of Student Rights & Responsibilities has the discretion to adjust the length of the extension as circumstances warrant.

- If either Party submits an appeal, Outcomes assigned will be considered “on hold” pending a final decision on the appeal evaluation and/or appeal as applicable, unless SRR determines otherwise or in a Case in which the Respondent was previously issued an Administrative Action, Interim Action or Suspension.

- If either or both the Complainant and/or Respondent submits an Appeal Form, within five (5) Business Days of the date on the Decision Notice letter, the other Party(ies) involved in the Case will be notified that an appeal has been received.

- The Director of Student Rights & Responsibilities will refer the appeal to the appropriate Appellate Officer for review.

- The Appellate Officer will review the Appeal Form and associated documents submitted by the parties, Decision Notice letter, other Student Rights & Responsibilities Records, and any other applicable information to determine a decision on the appeal. The Appellate Officer’s review includes determining whether the appeal submission meets the Appeal Criteria. However, their review does not involve re-hearing the Case or assessing the appropriateness of the University’s policies and procedures.

- In the SRR process, neither Complainants nor Respondents have the right to view the appeal documents that were submitted by the other Party(ies). However, the Appellate Officer may reserve the right to forward any and all portions of the appeal documents to the other Party(ies) as needed to address matters raised in the appeal. In such situations, the other Party(ies) will be given the opportunity to submit a written response by a stated deadline.

- The Appellate Officer may take one of the following actions:
  - Deny the appeal and uphold the original decision based on not satisfying the Appeal Criteria; or
  - Accept the appeal based on satisfying the Appeal Criteria and either:
    - Send the Case back to Student Rights & Responsibilities for an administrative review;
- Send the Case back to Student Rights & Responsibilities to address a finding of substantially disproportionate Outcomes; or
- Dismiss the Case.

- The University will make a good faith effort to complete the appeal within ten (10) Business Days from the date the appeal is provided to the Appellate Officer.
- The Appellate Officer’s decision is considered final and there are no further routes of appeal.

Case Completion
- The Case Resolution process is considered completed when either no appeal is submitted by a Respondent or Complainant (as applicable) within five (5) Business Days or an appeal is denied, rendering the decision by the Case Resolution Body as final.
- Student Rights & Responsibilities staff may notify campus entities of the decision as necessary in order to move forward with processes impacted by the Outcomes.

Administrative Action, Interim Action, and Interim Suspension

All Students have the right to continue their education free from the threat of harassment, abuse, retribution, or violence. The University may act or offer services that are designed to protect the safety, security, or integrity of a Complainant, a Reporting Party, a Witness, the University, or any member of the University Community.

Administrative Action, Interim Action, and Interim Suspension include, but are not limited to, Mutual No Contact Orders, Location Restrictions, involuntary removal from a course, program, activity, or University Premises, and modifications to living arrangements pending case resolution, and/or prior to reporting incidents to law enforcement or other non-University agencies.

For matters under the jurisdiction of the EOIX, the University will consider emergency removal consistent with the applicable EOIX procedures.

Administrative Action

The Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities (SRR) has the authority to make administrative decisions to promote safety that do not interrupt the academic progress of a Student for matters under SRR’s jurisdiction. SRR may take Administrative Actions including restricting a Student from a particular extracurricular event, making a temporary housing reassignment in University owned or operated housing, or removing a Student from University owned or operated housing. Administrative Actions are not appealable.

For investigations and resolutions under the jurisdiction of the EOIX, the University will consider emergency removal consistent with the applicable EOIX procedures.

Interim Action

- The Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs may restrict a Student’s access to some University resources or activities for an interim period prior to case resolution.

- An Interim Action will be effective immediately, without prior notice, whenever the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs determines that the continued engagement of the Student on the University Premises or involvement in University activities poses a disruption to the ability of any member of the University Community to participate in University activities or to the stability and continuance of normal University operations. The Student may appeal an Interim Action within five (5) Business Days. However, the Interim Actions will remain in effect while the appeal is pending.

- During an Interim Action, the Student is denied access to University Premises, in part, and University activities or privileges for which the Student might otherwise be eligible, as the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs may determine to be appropriate.

- Whenever a Student is subjected to an Interim Action, the University will complete case resolution as promptly as possible. The Interim Action will remain in effect until a final decision has been reached, including any appropriate appellate process.

Interim Suspension

- The Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs may suspend a Student for an interim period prior to case resolution.

- An Interim Suspension will be effective immediately, without prior notice, whenever the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs determines that the continued presence of the Student on the University Premises poses a substantial threat to any member of the University Community or the stability and continuance of normal University operations. The Student may appeal an Interim Suspension within five (5) business days. However, the Interim Suspension will remain in effect while the appeal is pending.
During an Interim Suspension, the Student is denied access to University Premises and all University activities or privileges for which the Student might otherwise be eligible, as the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs may determine to be appropriate.

Whenever a Student is subjected to an Interim Suspension, the University will complete case resolution as promptly as possible. The Interim Suspension will remain in effect until a final decision has been reached, including any appropriate appellate process.

Mutual No Contact and Location Restriction Orders

A Mutual No Contact Order is a written directive for the identified parties to avoid all contact and/or communication with one another. Unless expressly stated otherwise in the Mutual No Contact Order, contact is defined as communicating in person, communicating through a third party, and communicating through all forms of written and/or electronic contact (including phone, email, texting, and social media). The Mutual No Contact Order may apply to other forms of contact, as the University deems appropriate under the circumstances.

A Location Restriction Order is a written directive for one or more identified parties not to enter a designated portion of University Premises. The written Location Restriction Order will define the space to be avoided, which may include particular rooms, buildings, outdoor areas, events, or other spaces as described in the Location Restriction Order. The Location Restriction Order may also require a housing reassignment or reassignment to a different section of a course for one or multiple individuals identified in the Location Restriction Order.

Although these Mutual No Contact Orders and Location Restriction Orders are not considered disciplinary in nature, if it is determined that a Student failed to abide by the terms of the Mutual No Contact Order and Location Restriction Orders this will constitute a violation of University Policy.

Mutual No Contact Orders and Location Restriction Orders may be issued as an Emergency Order through the Department of Campus Safety and will be in effect for no more than 5 Business Days. For more information on Mutual No Contact Orders and Location Restriction Orders, please see the SRR website. To request a Mutual No Contact Order and/or Location Order, please complete this form.

Case Resolution Bodies

When Student Rights & Responsibilities determines that an Alleged Policy Violation has occurred, SRR will refer the Case to a Case Resolution Body for responsibility and/or Outcome determination.

A Case Resolution Body is any person, persons, or groups authorized by the University to determine whether a Student has violated Student Rights & Responsibilities Policies and to impose Outcomes when appropriate.

All Case Resolution Bodies have the authority to make a determination regarding responsibility for violations of Honor Code and/or other University Policies and assign Outcomes as appropriate:

- The Director of Student Rights & Responsibilities has the authority to impose Outcomes up to, and including, Suspension.

- The Director of Student Rights & Responsibilities, has the authority to enter into a Case Resolution Agreement with Involved Parties.

- The Director of Student Rights & Responsibilities has the authority to authorize Student Rights & Responsibilities staff members to impose Outcomes up to, and including, Elevated Probation.

- The Director of Student Rights & Responsibilities has the authority to authorize Housing and Residential Education (HRE) staff to conduct Case Resolution Meetings for Cases that originate in University owned or operated housing and are not assigned to a different Case Resolution Body. Generally, HRE staff may hear Cases involving alleged violations of policies set forth in the Guide to Residence Living and alleged violations of Student Rights & Responsibilities Community Standards. HRE staff members have the authority to assign Outcomes up to, and including, Probation.

- Faculty Members or the designated decision maker in an academic department or unit have inherent authority to make decisions on Academic Actions when they have determined a Student has violated one or more Academic Integrity Policies. Academic Actions may include, but are not limited to failure of an assignment, failure of a course, or recommendation of termination from a program of study as per applicable procedures.

- Student Accountability Board (SAB) has the authority to conduct Case Resolution Meetings involving student Respondents and issue all forms of Outcomes, up to and including Expulsion from the University.

- Restorative Justice Conference (RJC) is an alternative dispute resolution process and will only be considered when: (1) the Student Respondent(s) have taken responsibility for violating the applicable Student Rights & Responsibilities Community Standards and have an interest in repairing the harm done by their actions; and (2) the Complainant(s) agree to participate in the process.

Student Accountability Boards

- The Director of Student Rights & Responsibilities will be the Chair for the SAB. The role of the Chair is to facilitate the SAB and to advise the SAB. The Chair does not make decisions on responsibility or Outcomes. When possible, the SAB should be comprised of three (3) eligible members of the University Community. When possible, the SAB will be comprised of one (1) Student, one (1) Faculty Member, and one (1) Staff Member.

- Specific guidelines for who may serve on an SAB are as follows:

  - When possible, the undergraduate or graduate status of the Respondent(s) will be the same as the status of the Student member of the SAB.

  - In Cases involving an alleged violation of Academic Integrity Policies, at least one (1) member of the SAB must be a Faculty Member.

  - The SAB may conduct a meeting with only two (2) members, provided the Respondent(s) and Complainant(s) (if applicable) have no relevant objections.

  - To be eligible to serve on the SAB, individuals must meet the following requirements:

    a. Students must be registered as a full-time Student in good standing after completing at least one (1) term of coursework at the University.

    b. Faculty Members must be currently employed by the University and must have taught courses at the University for a minimum of one (1) academic term. Faculty Members must also have taught at least one (1) course within the most recent two (2) academic terms.

SAB Procedures

- The SAB meeting will be recorded. This recording will be kept for a period of no less than seven (7) years from the date of the Respondent’s most recent Case and/or completion of all Outcomes, whichever is later.

- The SAB meeting will be closed, with participation limited to the Respondent(s), the Complainant(s), approved Support Persons, SRR approved Witnesses, the Chair, the SAB members, SAB members in training, and any other appropriate University Official, as applicable.

  - If the Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities designates a new SAB member, Respondent(s) and Complainant(s) will have one (1) Business Day to submit any written objections to the new SAB member to the designated administrator for review.

- The Chair will restrict all statements to matters relevant to the Case.

  - Deliberations
  - The Chair has the discretion to vary the specific order of the proceedings, so long as each of the components is included. Additionally, there may be multiple Complainants and Respondents involved in a SAB at one time. All Complainants will speak first, followed by all Respondents.

Restorative Justice

At times, Students may make decisions that are violations of the Honor Code that may negatively impact and/or disrupt the University Community. SRR strives to promote opportunities for holistic student learning and growth when Students take responsibility for their mistakes and decide they would like to repair harm in their community; this is referred to as Restorative Justice. The Restorative Justice process can only be used if the University determines, in its sole discretion, that Restorative Justice is an appropriate process for the incident, the Respondent accepts responsibility for their actions and choices and the Complainant and/or impacted parties are able to participate fully. During a Restorative Justice process, impacted parties have an opportunity to share their perspective, confront the behavior, express the impact of the actions on them, and help develop Outcomes. Throughout this process, Students have an opportunity to reflect on this experience and learn how to move forward in a positive and productive way.

- Members of the greater University Community will serve on a Restorative Justice Committee (RJC), including Faculty Members, Staff Members, Students, alumni, neighbors, and impacted parties. RJC's use a collaborative process to create an Outcomes Agreement and can impose a variety of Outcomes focused on reconciliation, resolution, and/or the betterment of the University Community.

- If the members of an RJC successfully create an Outcomes Agreement, the Respondent(s) cannot appeal the Outcomes because the Respondent(s) participated in this mutually agreed upon decision. If the members of an RJC cannot come to an agreement about Outcomes, the RJC is considered unsuccessful, and the Case will be sent back to the Student Rights & Responsibilities Process for traditional Case Resolution.

- The typical rights and responsibilities provided to Students in the traditional Student Rights & Responsibilities process may not be applicable in an RJC.

Outcomes

The Student Rights & Responsibilities process is designed to create opportunities for holistic student living, learning, and growth to promote a safe campus community. Outcomes are intended to be educational and endeavor to encourage student development of self-awareness, social engagement, and a sense of purpose. Individuals found responsible for violating policies will be held accountable and assigned Outcomes that balance the developmental needs of the Respondent and the needs of the University to provide equitable process and promote a safe campus community.

The Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities will determine Outcomes for violations of Student Rights & Responsibilities Community Standards using criteria, including, but not limited to, the following:

- The nature and severity of the action/incident;
- The use of physical violence (if any) associated with the incident;
- The impact of the conduct on Complainant(s), University Community, community members, University and community safety, and University environment;
- The number of Complainants and/or impacted individuals;
• The maintenance of a safe and respectful living, learning, and working environment;
• The Respondent’s level of demonstrated understanding regarding the impact their choices and actions had;
• The Respondent’s acceptance of responsibility;
• The influence of alcohol or other drugs;
• The circumstances and severity of the violation including behavior and conduct;
• The intent of the Respondent;
• A Student’s previous Student Rights & Responsibilities Record or relevant or related criminal convictions (if known); and
• Any other mitigating, aggravating, or compelling factors.

The Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities assigns Outcomes for the entirety of an incident, not for each violation, and will take prior conduct history into account. All Outcomes typically include a Status Outcome and at least one appropriate Educational Outcome.

Status Outcomes
These Outcomes define the Student’s standing at the University. These include the following:

• Educational Letter: An Educational Letter is given to notify a Student that their behavior and conduct has been inconsistent with the expectations of the University. An Educational Letter has no immediate effect upon a Student’s status at the University. SRR would not routinely report an Educational Letter as part of a Student’s conduct history when asked for purposes of transferring schools or for admission to graduate school. SRR will keep the Educational Letter as part of the Student’s education records.

• Written Warning: A written warning is given to notify a Student that their behavior and conduct has been inconsistent with the expectations of the University. A written warning has no immediate effect upon a Student’s status at the University.

• Probation: Probation serves to notify a Student that they must avoid any further violations for a specified period of time to remain a Student at the University. Students on probation are not in good standing with the University. As a result, a Student may be prohibited from participating in certain co-curricular activities while on probation. If a Student on Probation is found responsible for any further violations of the Student Rights & Responsibilities Community Standards or University Policy, the Student may be placed on a more elevated Status Outcome.

- Elevated Probation: Elevated Probation serves to notify a Student that they must avoid any further violations of the Student Rights & Responsibilities Community Standards for a specific period of time in order to remain a Student at the University. When a student on Elevated Probation is alleged to be involved with any subsequent violations of the Student Rights & Responsibilities Community Standards or University Policy, they may be issued an Interim Suspension until the University can determine their responsibility in the subsequent incident. Students on Elevated Probation are not in good standing with the University. As a result, a Student on Elevated Probation may be prohibited from participating in certain co-curricular activities. If the student on Elevated Probation is found responsible for any further violations of the Student Rights & Responsibilities Community Standards or University Policy, the Student may be suspended or expelled from the University.

- Suspension: A Student who has been suspended from the University may not participate in any University activities, academic or otherwise, for a specific period of time, and will be restricted from all University Premises. A suspended Student who wishes to re-enroll must apply for readmission to the University and must also apply to the Director of Student Rights & Responsibilities who will determine whether any and all requirements for readmission have been satisfactorily completed. The University does not accept courses that the Student may have completed at another institution while on suspension.

- Expulsion: A Student who has been expelled from the University is permanently prohibited from participating in any University activities, academic or otherwise, and will be permanently restricted from all University Premises.

Educational Outcomes

These Outcomes are intended to facilitate the learning process and encourage Students to reflect on the impact of the decisions they have made and help Students develop the skills necessary to be successful at the University. If a Student fails to complete any Educational Outcome by the specified deadline, the University will place a hold on a Student’s registration account with the University, and the Student may be subject to further action under the Honor Code.

Types of Educational Outcomes include, but are not limited to:
• Reflective Activities: The Student is required to, for example, write a reflection paper, maintain a journal, or write a review of a policy.

• Programs & Activities: The Student is required to, for example, complete community service hours, attend a program, or design a poster board.

• Interventions: The Student is required to, for example, undergo a counseling consultation, assessment, complete a drug and/or alcohol evaluation, or attend a workshop.

• Restrictions: The Student is restricted from certain locations or activities, for example, a single residence hall or a particular Student Organization.

• Referrals: The Student is referred to another process, such as mediation, for resolution.

Parental or Legal Guardian Notification Policy

The University considers Student Rights & Responsibilities Records to be part of a Student’s education record. Accordingly, the University complies with all applicable laws and regulations, including but not limited to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).

The University recognizes that parent(s) or legal guardian(s) maintain an interest in their Student’s behavior and conduct while at the University, and parents or legal guardians can play a positive role in addressing these issues. Therefore, the University may notify the parent(s) or legal guardian(s) of any Student under the age of twenty-one (21) whose current enrollment ends due to Suspension or Expulsion. The University also reserves the right to notify the parent(s) or legal guardian(s) of any dependent Student under the age of twenty-one (21) who has been found responsible for violating any drug or alcohol policies after the appeal process has concluded or the time for filing an appeal has passed without the Student filing an appeal. Students may be required to provide contact information for their parent(s) or legal guardian(s). The Director of Student Rights & Responsibilities has the sole discretion to decline such notification under certain circumstances.

This notification is intended as a means to encourage communication between Students and their parent(s) or legal guardian(s) to provide the greatest level of support for the Student. Nevertheless, the University’s primary relationship is with its Students, rather than with their parent(s) or legal guardian(s), and the University’s priority and obligation is to correspond and otherwise conduct business directly with Students and not through parent(s), legal guardian(s), or any other third party.

Rights of Involved Parties

The Student Rights & Responsibilities process is designed to be educational in nature and to fairly determine if a Student is responsible for violating the Honor Code. If the Student is found responsible, the goal is to hold the Student accountable for violations, assist the Student in understanding the impact their behavior has had on others, and provide opportunities to repair harm and restore trust. The process is also designed to provide those who may have been impacted by these actions an opportunity to address an alleged violation of the Honor Code. Throughout the Student Rights & Responsibilities process, Involved Parties have certain rights and responsibilities which include:

Fair Treatment

- The right to be treated with dignity and respect.
- The right to receive information regarding the SRR process and their role within this process.
- The Respondent has the right to be considered not responsible for an alleged violation(s) of the Honor Code unless found responsible during this process. The right to object to a member of a Case Resolution Body based on significant demonstrable bias that would affect that member’s ability to render a fair decision.
- The right for all decisions in the process to be based upon a Preponderance of the Evidence standard.
- The right to request in a timely manner a reasonable arrangement (e.g. for language barriers or location/proximity concerns) and/or reasonable accommodation (e.g. for disability) to allow their full participation in the SRR process.
- The right to notify the leadership of the Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities via the online reporting form if the Student has concerns with the SRR process.

Privacy

- The right to protection of information subject to applicable provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).

Presence of a Support Person

- The right to have one (1) Support Person of their choice present throughout the SRR process.

- A Support Person can be any person chosen by the Student, including but not limited to a parent or legal guardian, family member, or an attorney.

- Individuals who are Involved Parties or Witnesses in the Case or a member of the Case Resolution Body must not serve as a Support Person.

- The University may not reschedule proceedings to accommodate the schedule of a Support Person.

- A Support Person must not speak on behalf of the Involved Party nor actively participate in the proceeding. A Support Person must not attend a Case Resolution Meeting or other related meetings without the Involved Party they are supporting being present.

- SRR will not consider or accept submissions or information from a Support Person. If a Support Person attempts to present information or submit documents on behalf of an Involved Party, SRR will notify the Involved Party and provide the Involved Party a reasonable amount of time to submit the information or documents directly, however SRR will not extend procedural deadlines for this reason. If the Involved Party elects not to submit the information or documents, the information previously submitted by the Support Person will not be considered in the investigation or any resolution, including any appeal.

Written Notice

- The right to Proper Written Notification of any Case Resolution Meeting a Student is invited to attend as a result of a Report being filed. The notification may include the following:

  - The time, date, and location of the Case Resolution Meeting and procedures for requesting a change in time and/or date;

  - A summary of the incident, copy of the redacted Report, or the office or agency to contact to request information underlying the Report;

  - The Alleged Policy Violations being considered at the time of the Proper Written Notification;

The process and Outcomes for not attending the Case Resolution Meeting.

Respond to Allegations and Provide Statement

- The right to view any supporting documents not already provided in the Proper Written Notification, such as videos and photos. The University will use reasonable efforts to allow the Involved Parties to review those materials in a monitored environment.

- The right to respond to the Alleged Policy Violations, including the right to present information directly relevant to the incident.
  - Polygraphs or “lie detector” results are not considered relevant and therefore are not allowed to be presented in any matter under the SRR process.

- The right to present Witnesses.
  - The SRR process addresses Student behavior and conduct, not Student character, therefore character witnesses, statements, and reference letters are not considered relevant and therefore are not permissible.
  - Witnesses must be identified through this form.

Written Decision and Appeal

- The right to a Proper Written Notification of the results of their Case Resolution Meeting. The notice will include the following information:
  - The determination of Responsibility for the alleged violations of the Student Rights & Responsibilities Community Standards

- Complainants only have the right to receive a Proper Written Notification and a right to appeal the results of a Case Resolution Meeting convened because of a Report they filed if the Complainant is a victim of an alleged crime of violence. If a Complainant dies because of the incident, the alleged victim’s next of kin has the right to such notification.
Other Case Resolution Types

Academic Integrity Misconduct Process

The University of Denver creates an academic learning environment grounded in Academic Integrity. Students are expected to engage honestly and demonstrate responsibility in research and academic assignments. Therefore, all work and grades should result from the Student's own understanding of the materials and their effort. Unless expressly permitted by the Faculty Member, Students must not use Artificial Intelligence (AI) to create all or any portion of a Student’s academic work.

Faculty Members or designated decision maker in an academic department or unit are responsible for determining if a violation of an Academic Integrity Policy has occurred. When evidence/information indicates that a Student may have violated an Academic Integrity Policy, the Faculty Member or designated decision maker in an academic department or unit should contact the Student and provide an opportunity for the Student to respond to the allegation.

If the Faculty member or designated decision maker in an academic department or unit determines that the Student has violated an Academic Integrity Policy, the Faculty member or designated decision maker in an academic department or unit will assign appropriate Academic Actions and will work with SRR to identify any appropriate Educational and Status Outcomes.

For more information regarding the Academic Integrity Misconduct Process, please see the SRR website.

Policy on the Disruption of the Learning Environment

The University is committed to promoting a positive and safe Learning Environment. Individual Faculty Members and Staff Members have the right to determine whether specific Student behavior and conduct is disruptive to the Learning Environment, and as a result, Faculty Members and Staff Members may require a Student to leave an individual Learning Environment; however, Faculty Members and Staff Members are not authorized to permanently remove a Student from the Learning Environment without following the process set forth below and/or the SRR process, whichever the Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities in its discretion determines is appropriate.

The Disruption of the Learning Environment Process should be initiated as soon as possible after the initial disruption. If during this process, the Student’s continued presence in the Learning Environment represents a significant impediment to the educational process of the Learning Environment, the University may officially withdraw or remove the Student from the Learning Environment. If attempts at informal resolution fail or are not possible, the University will follow the withdrawal or removal procedure.

Faculty Members, Staff Members, or Students in the Learning Environment in which the disruption is alleged to have occurred should file an SRR Incident Report.

The process to address a Disruption of the Learning Environment report is as follows:

- After a Faculty Member, Staff Members, or Student files an Incident Report, the Dean or designee, as a neutral party, will lead a meeting between the Student and Faculty Member or Staff Members responsible for the Learning Environment to attempt to resolve the concern as soon as possible after the submission of the SRR Incident Report.

- The Faculty Member or Staff Member need not lead the meeting but should be present at this initial meeting with the Student.

- The Director of SRR, will attend the meeting to help facilitate administrative response and provide clarification regarding policies and procedures.

- Additional University Community Members (including, but not limited to, Dean’s office staff or Campus Safety staff) may be asked to attend this meeting.

- The Student may bring a Support Person to this meeting, provided that the Support Person must follow all limitations on the role of a Support Person as set forth in the Honor Code.

- If the Student fails to attend the meeting, the Faculty Member or Staff Member may proceed with a request to the relevant Dean’s office for an involuntary removal of the Student from the Learning Environment.

- If the initial conversation does not resolve the conflict or if the Student fails to attend the meeting, the Dean will issue a determination within five (5) Business Days from the scheduled time of the meeting.

- During the time between the meeting and the determination, the Student is not permitted to return to the Learning Environment and the Faculty Member and Staff Member shall provide the Student with materials, assignments, and other Learning Environment information the Faculty Member and Staff Member deems essential to assist the Student with remaining current in the Learning Environment.
Environment.

- The Dean will communicate the determination regarding whether or not the Student will be withdrawn or removed from the Learning Environment to the Student, Faculty Member, Staff Member, and applicable University Officials.

- If the Dean determines that withdrawing or removing the Student from the Learning Environment is necessary, the Student will be provided the opportunity to withdraw from the Learning Environment voluntarily. If this is a course, if the Student does not drop the course voluntarily, the Office of the Registrar will drop the student from the course. In either case, the Student’s transcript will reflect a “W” for withdrawal if the action occurs after the course drop deadline.

- If the Dean determines that withdrawal or removal is not warranted, the Student shall be allowed to return to the Learning Environment at the next scheduled opportunity. The Student may be required to sign a Behavioral Responsibilities Agreement to set forth expectations for appropriate and inappropriate conduct for the remainder of the course as well as the consequences for violating the agreement. The agreement is not appealable. The agreement will be kept on file with the Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities.

- The Student may appeal the withdrawal or removal decision in writing to the Office of the Provost & Executive Vice Chancellor no later than five (5) Business Days from the date of the Dean’s. The Provost & Executive Vice Chancellor will only consider appeals based only on the following criteria:
  - The existence of procedural errors so substantial that they greatly impacted the decision;
  - Presentation of new and significant evidence which was not reasonably available at the time of the initial meeting and would likely alter the decision; and/or
  - The decision is substantially disproportionate to the severity of the violation.

- Mere disagreement with the decision is not grounds for appeal.

- During the appeal process, the Student is not permitted to participate in the Learning Environment. The Faculty Member or staff member shall provide the Student with materials, assignments, and other Learning Environment information the Faculty Member or staff member deems essential to assist the Student with remaining current in the Learning Environment.
• The Provost & Executive Vice Chancellor will render a decision to the Student no later than five (5) Business Days from the date of receipt of the appeal. This decision is final with no further avenue of appeal.

Student Organizational Rights & Responsibilities Process

The Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities maintains the authority to investigate and adjudicate any violation of University Policies by Student Organizations. The Director of Student Rights & Responsibilities has the authority to delegate responsibility for investigation or adjudication of Alleged Policy Violations.

Student Rights & Responsibilities action taken against Student Organizations is an extension of the University’s Student Rights & Responsibilities process. Student Rights & Responsibilities, in consultation with relevant campus partners including, but not limited to Athletics & Recreation, Office of Student Engagement, Student Affairs & Inclusive Excellence staff, shall take whatever action deemed necessary to respond to complaints involving Student Organizations and/or to prevent future violations.

For more information regarding the policies and procedures related to Student Organizations, please see the Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities website.

Student Rights & Responsibilities Records Policy

The Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities will be responsible for maintaining all official University records related to Student Rights & Responsibilities. A Student Rights & Responsibilities Record will include copies of all Cases in which a Student is found responsible for violating at least one Student Rights & Responsibilities Community Standard, as well as copies of all relevant correspondence and other documentation related to the Case.

Please see the Student Rights & Responsibilities website for specific SRR Records Policies and Procedures.
